

Puts His Bets On Rome

Editor The Chronicle—Sir: Paul Green in today's Safety Valve says in the event of another world war the United States would emerge world dictator. Oh, baloney! He reckons without our onions. In the case of another world war, Rome would emerge world dictator, to the consternation and dismay of all the die-hards on earth. How? Ah, that would be too long a story for The Chronicle to print so I should bother myself explaining.

OLE J. SNEIDER

San Francisco, April 20, 1939.